Carnival Attendance Breaks All Records

SNOW TRAINS AND AUTOS BRING THOUSANDS

Queen's Ball Largest In History

The crowd that invaded Grayling over the week end eclipsed in number any event in the history of the city, according to estimates of some of our citizens. It is estimated to have been somewhere between fifteen and twenty thousand, and on Saturday night sleeping places were at a premium, with hotels and private homes crowded. And on Sunday with the arrival of three snow trains—one carrying Saginaw and Bay City people, and two with Detroit crowds—the city was tilted to overflowing. All were bound for Grayling's Winter Sports park, two miles west of the city. While ordinarily an auto can make a trip to the park and return easily in 15 minutes, on Sunday, because of the heavy traffic, it took nearly an hour.

At the park everything was humming with activity. On Saturday there were ice athletic contests, results of which appear elsewhere in this paper. Besides there were exhibitions of fancy and speed skating and ski jumping by professionals engaged for the purpose of entertaining the crowds.

The banquet given at Shoppenagons Inn Friday night in honor of the Queen and her court had a large crowd in attendance. Also the Press "stag" banquet at the Inn Saturday night had a crowded attendance and it was one of the liveliest affairs of the week.

The Queen's ball at the school gym had the biggest crowd that that event ever entertained, and it was a very delightful and pleasant affair. Among the newspaper men present during the carnival were Glenn MacDonald, managing editor, Robert Wood, state editor, Mr. Birge (Finny), columnist, and Helen Bradley, woman's page editor, all of the Bay City Times; Kellogg Patterson, Chicago representative for the Cincinnati Times-Star, Louisville Journal and the Kansas City Star; and reporters for several international news-gathering agencies. Former State Senator and editor of the Chesaning Argus Chet Howell and his family of Chesaning, Herman Muellerweiss of Sebawaing, Nelson Brown, of Mason, were among some of the weekly press visitors.

Conspicuous among the crowd was a Pathe News photographer who made a fine motion picture record of the Saturday and Sunday activities.

Queen's Banquet Opens Carnival

Friday evening the Queen's banquet officially opened the carnival for 1936. The queen, Miss Virginia Skingley, and her court received the guests in the Shoppenagons Inn lobby and then passed into the dining room where they were seated at two long tables very attractively decorated with bouquets of pine bows and snow-covered branches that gave the tables a winter appearance.

Mr. Roy Trudgen welcomed the guests and then called on secretary Charles Moore to officially welcome those present. Impromptu remarks were made by Ben Wright, Bay City; Dr. C. R. Keyport, Mr. Kellogg Patterson, Chicago; and Dr. C. G. Clippert. Mrs. Cora Schreur, queen of Winter Sports for 1935, responded with very pleasing remarks and then presented the queen of 1936, Miss Virginia Skingley, who, after making an appropriate reply presented her court—Miss Yvonne Kraus, Miss Gertrude Streeter, Miss Beverly Schabbe, Miss Bernita Chappel, Miss Vivian Dawson and Miss Elaine McDonnell. The queen then thanked everyone for the courtesies shown them and the honor of representing them for 1936.

The queen's banquet has been an annual affair for many years and is a delightful opening for the carnival festivities. Mrs. Oscar Schumann, Mrs. A. J. Joseph and Mrs. Fred Welsh were the committee in charge.

Huge Crowd Attends Queen's Ball

The ball given in honor of our Winter Sports queen, Miss Virginia Skingley, was probably the largest affair ever given in the high school gym. The halls, balcony and gym floor were crowded to capacity.

The gym decorations, under the supervision of Harley Kennedy, were very effective. At the east end of the floor a large terraced platform covered in white with delightful lighting effects served as a fine position for the orchestra—Judd's Orchestra of Cheboygan. Back of the orchestra stand a deep blue background covered with silver stars and moon set off the arrangement. A beautiful white and silver throne graced the second terrace with steps leading up to it. Hanging from the center of the ceiling was a huge snowball which dropped miniature snowballs over the dancers later in the evening. The complete arrangement represented a winter wonderland.

At eleven o'clock, the rear doors to the gym opened and a bugle heralded the approach of the queen and her court. Queen Virginia surely looked regal as she slowly wended her way to the throne, her blue velvet robe sweeping the floor. She carried an arm bouquet of American beauty roses. The court followed, gowning in peach colored frocks with wide bright blue ribbon sashes fastened with a large buckle in front. They carried fans of the same shade. The queen's robe was removed at the throne revealing her in a beautiful white crepe evening dress.

Dr. C. R. Keyport acted as master of ceremonies, welcoming the crowd and introducing Murray D. VanWagoner, State Highway Commissioner, who would crown the queen.

Following the crowning of the beautiful queen Dr. Keyport announced that the American Legion Drum & Bugle corps, of which Mr. Harold Skingley, father of queen Virginia, is a member, would approach the throne. They made a very thrilling spectacle as they entered the gym clad in their white outfits, preceded by their drum major, Mr. Earl Woods, in his bright red uniform and twirling his baton, while the bugles rang out their arrival. Mr. Alfred Hanson, 10th District Committee-man of the Legion, then stepped to the platform and made a very pleasing address on the honor accorded a member of their corps in having his daughter selected as the queen of the 1936 Winter Sports. He then called on Commander John Erkes to approach the throne, which he did, presenting the queen with a beautiful bouquet of red roses. Mr. Hanson then called for the Past president of the Ladies Auxiliary, Mrs. Louis Martin, who came forward and presented the queen with an armful of white snapdragons. Then Mr.

Virginia Skingley—1936 Carnival Queen.

Harold Skingley, with fatherly pride, came forward and presented the queen-daughter with a large bouquet of blue carnations. The ceremony was very pretty and was a fine feature for such an occasion. Dr. Keyport then announced that dancing would continue with the queen and her court and their escorts leading. The ball was one of the most delightful affairs of the Carnival and the ball committee, together with the Queen's committee, of which Mrs. Adolph Peterson was chairman, deserve great credit for its success.

Highway Commissioner Crowns Queen

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen: You came here tonight to pay your respects to royalty and dance perhaps to the rhythmic swing of "The Music Goes Round and Round." Instead, you must listen to a speech by your state highway commissioner.

Ordinarily, such a situation would lead me to apologize but I note that this carnival is now

Judge Geo. Sorenson Died Wednesday

WAS ONE OF GRAYLING'S OLDEST BUSINESS MEN

After an illness of about two weeks, George Sorenson, judge of probate of Crawford county, and insurance dealer and undertaker, passed away at his home at about 10:00 a. m. Wednesday, after a long and painful illness.

The news of Judge Sorenson's death was a shock to the people of this community where he had been so well known for nearly 30 years. Mr. Sorenson was born in Faarster, Denmark, February 13, 1873, and was one of 11 children. When he was a mere child he came to America with his mother and other members of the family. They came directly to Grayling joining the father Severin Sorenson and the older sons who had come here previously and established their home. When he was old enough he started working in the local lumber mills. His brother the late James, had started in business for himself in a small stationery store in conjunction of which he also handled ice cream, cigars and candy. In 1902 when James bought out the Collin Wright confectionery store, where Oat Sorenson & Sons now operate a similar business, George became interested in the business and the two brothers formed a co-partnership and they continued business together until James passed away in March, 1932.

They continued in the confectionery business until 1906 when they bought out the furniture business of Braden & Forbes, who operated in the building next door. Forming the business firm of Sorenson Bros., at that time the business was known as that until after the senior partner James had passed away. Since then Mr. Sorenson was associated in business by his sons Thorwald and Alfred.

In 1928 Mr. Sorenson became a registered undertaker and had been the only one that Grayling had known since that time. He had endeared himself to many families by his courteous service and kind sympathies in their times of bereavement. He associated the undertaking business nicely with the furniture business and in late years his son Thorwald has been an able assistant. He finished out a term as judge of probate succeeding the late Oscar Palmer and he has been continuously reelected as probate judge for four successive terms, having served in that office for about twenty years.

On June 15, 1910 he was united in marriage to Anine Johnson, who with the one daughter Mrs. Jerome Kesseler and three sons, Thorwald, Alfred and Kieth, all of Grayling, survive. Also one sister Mrs. Waldemar Jensen, and a brother, Rudolph Sorenson, of Grayling. He was a member of the local Oddfellows, Loyal Order of Moose lodges and of the Kiwanis club.

Mr. Sorenson was one of Grayling's best known and highly respected citizens. Throughout the nearly fifty years of business life in Grayling he had borne a reputation for industry, dependability and integrity, which at no time during his career was ever questioned. He was a fine citizen, an exemplary husband and father. In his official capacity as judge of the probate court he proved a capable, fair-minded and able executive. He was keenly alert to the great responsibility he was carrying and in all his practice exerted exceptional intelligence and understanding. The passing of this fine citizen is a decided loss to this community as well as to his splendid family. Mrs. Sorenson and children have the genuine sympathy of this entire community in their bereavement.

The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon with services at the home at 2:00 o'clock and at Michelson Memorial church at 2:30. Rev. Edgar Flory, Rev. Hans Juhl of the Danish-Lutheran church will both officiate.

Early Fire Guts Olsen Drug Store

Fire at about 5:00 o'clock this morning was rapidly eating its way into the Mrs. N. P. Olson building and stock and fixtures of the C. W. Olsen drug store. Apparently the fire started in a storage room at the rear end of the building.

Flames soon gutted the back rooms where most of the pharmaceuticals are kept and then raced upstairs where Mr. Olsen made his home. The latter was awake at about 4:00 a. m. and at that time noticed nothing wrong. In less than an hour later he again awoke and found his room filled with smoke.

He raced to the exit but the stairs were so hot and smoke so dense that he returned to the front end of the building where he called from a window for help. Firemen had to assist him down a ladder. It all happened so quickly that Mr. Olsen had no opportunity to save any of his personal belongings except a pair of trousers and sweater that he put on over his pajamas. Even he was in his bare feet when he reached the sidewalk. Accepting the loan of a pair of articles he went to the Hanson restaurant where he waited until he could secure apparel from the Mercantile Co. store.

The fire was vicious and gave the firemen plenty of trouble. The interior seemed to be all aflame and was a veritable inferno. Just about all the stock and fixtures of the store were destroyed or badly damaged. All of Mr. Olsen's personal belongings were consumed. He carried insurance amounting to about $9,500, which is expected will nearly cover the loss. We understand that there was no insurance on the building. The small building adjoining and occupied by Ebern Olson as a shoe store, was washed out and stock had to be removed for safety. This loss will probably be small, and is insured.

Alpena H. S. Bows To Grayling H. S.

The Northern Lights, basketball representatives of Grayling High, added another win to their long string of victories, Friday night by beating Alpena Central's Thunderbolts, 29-22.

Grayling, paced by Lovely with fourteen points, took the lead in the first few minutes of play and were not seriously pressed by the Hastie-coached boys until the last stanza when they registered ten points, while holding Coach Cornell's charges to two field goals and one charity shot.

The first quarter gave all indications that the game was going to be closer than it really was. Two quick baskets by Chalker and Lovely gave the homesters the lead early in the opening period, but Alpena came right back with a tally to make the score 4-2. The team from upstate added one from the free throw line and a counter from mid-court while the Snow Show boys garnered three more two-pointers to make the standings at the rest period Grayling, 10; Alpena, 5.

By working their plays to perfection and mixing in a fast break now and then the locals added seven points to their total, while holding the visitors to six points in the next quarter.

In the third period Grayling ran circles around the Alpena squad and scored another seven points to one lone tally for the opponents. The homesters feeling they had the game sewed up, slackened their pace a little too much in the final stanza and allowed Coach Hastie's men to run things. It was in this go that Alpena really played the brand of ball they are noted for. They got down to work and played hard to win, but they couldn't quite overcome Grayling's lead, although they did outscore them 10-5.

The final score was 29-22 in Grayling's favor and everyone agreed that it was a good game. Houghton Lake took the second team into camp to the tune of 14-9.

GRAYLING WINTER SPORTS ASSN.

Legion Jottings

The American Legion Drum & Bugle corps had a successful drill and practice at the Hall Thursday evening.

At the coronation of the winter sports queen Miss Virginia Skingley, last Saturday night, we were proud of the grand appearance our Drum and Bugle corps made. It was a nice honor for our member, Comrade Skingley, to have his daughter chosen queen also. Entering the gym one corps paying the respects of the Legion, the Corps and the Auxiliary to queen Virginia, they marched out in formation playing "Hail to the Victors." A full report of the affair appears in the Queen's Ball write-up.

Monday evening the American Legion and their wives together with their invited guests, held a party at Spike's Keg O' Nails and the place was packed to capacity. This was another time that "Spike" Harold McNeven was very generous and turned over his place and orchestra to the Vets. The crowd enjoyed themselves by dancing to music furnished by Eddie Fransoli and his Colored kevue who also put on a floor show which was very good. Other entertainment was furnished by George Hilton and Clare Smith who are very good entertainers and are always welcome on these parties. Cards and ping pong were to amuse several of the crowd, and a buffet lunch was served. Comrade William Huddleston made a humidor that was a beautiful piece of workmanship, being carved from white birch. This was sold and the proceeds of ten dollars went into the Legion entertainment fund. Among the guests who attended the party was "Chief" Fuller, who will be remembered by many of his friends here as he played baseball with Grayling in 1913. He is a Legionnaire, having served his country overseas. His friends were glad to see him again. In all this party was a gala affair.

Well! At last the Bonus has passed and the ex-service men are going to get what belongs to them. Too much praise cannot be given National Commander Murphy for the efforts and gallant fight he put forth for the boys who served their country when most needed. One hears a lot of comments but how many would be willing to be made human targets for two dollars per day? Did you ever look at it from all angles? Comrades, if you haven't joined the American Legion do it now. See what that organization has done for you and will continue till taps has been blown for us all.

Practice of the Drum & Bugle corps will be in full swing Thursday evening, so every one get out and "toot or drum."

Petoskey Here Sat.

After a two weeks absence from the basketball court, the Grayling Cubs will open up once again by tangling with the very competitive Bon-Ton Bakers club from Petoskey here Saturday night.

The Cubs after running a streak of hard luck, namely four of their stars, Harrison, Hendrickson, Marshall and Edon Gothro being unable to play, were held up for the past two weeks and now after a nice long rest the Cubs are raring to go, hence the Petoskey club. From all indications the Northerners have a very keen outfit, the team being made up of stars very highly ranked in this game called basketball.

Two Cub games, Harbor Springs there, and Traverse City here, were cancelled last week due to weather conditions. This game with Petoskey will be one of the toughest home games on the Cubs' schedule and with independent tournaments coming on all over the state, this will probably be the Cubs' last chance to show the home folks what a great basketball outfit they have. Some of the players who gave their best for good old Grayling High in the old days can still win basketball laurels. There will be a good preliminary so let's turn out folks!

East Jordan Here Feb. 4th

East Jordan, one of Grayling's main worries in the Northern Michigan Class "C" conference, brings its basketball team here Tuesday, February 4th, to have a go with our undefeated Northern Lights.

East Jordan has lost only one game in the Conference and suffered that at the hands of the Gaylord team.

After having had a week and a half layoff from practice, Coach Cornell's charges are back at it again, whipping themselves into shape for the East Jordan game.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 30, 1936

SOME of our young Boy Scouts and other lads of Grayling have been fine about helping out at the Winter park whenever requested, and on days when there have been large crowds of outsiders using the toboggan slides and skating rinks, our boys have held back in order to give the visitors preference. However on week-days and nights when they find that they can't skate and slide because the places are being sprinkled or otherwise being repaired, they are wondering if the park is being maintained for outsiders only. We say the boys are right about it. They should have times set aside for their use and also be permitted to use the park just as much as possible. And we would like to see some kind of arrangements made whereby transportation to and from the park may be provided for young boys and girls who have no way of their own for getting there. Grayling business men and others are contributors toward the upkeep of the park and we are sure it would be their wish that our own youngsters be given equal chance with outsiders. Our zeal for hospitality to outsiders perhaps has unintentionally obscured our thoughtfulness for the youth of our own town. No one person is to blame and we are sure this condition hasn't been deliberate, but instead, is unintentional neglect on the part of the Winter Sports Association members. Let's have a place on the schedule for our own boys and girls too. We feel certain that this condition will be remedied just as quickly as possible.

C. C. C. EDUCATIONAL DIRECTOR MARRIES

Miss Mildred E. Torongo, a teacher at Sibley school, Grand Rapids, and Leslie B. Merritt, educational adviser at Camp Higgins Lake, CCC Co. 672, were married by Dr. Helsley at Klise chapel, East Congregational church in Grand Rapids, Saturday morning, January 25.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Charlotte Torongo of Cadillac. Mr. Merritt has been at the Higgins Lake camp since March, 1934. He is a graduate of Western State Teachers college, Kalamazoo, receiving his B.A. degree in 1928, and has done graduate work at the University of Michigan. He has taught school several years at Clarksville and Battle Creek, Sunfield, Michigan, is his home town.

The bride has also attended the Kalamazoo normal and previous to her work in Grand Rapids taught at the Lakeview school in Battle Creek.

The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rogers, brother-in-law and sister of the bride. After a wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Merritt left for Chicago to spend a honeymoon. They will make their home in Grayling.

Still fifty dollars is not prohibitive for a boondoggler to pay for his lunch.

Religion In Life

Messages of a Minister
By Edgar Flory

Nineteen hundred years ago Jesus of Nazareth called a little child to him and his disciples and said among other things: "But whosoever shall offend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea."

These words burn our minds and hearts whenever we view the sufferings and privations of children. Few ordinary persons would willingly injure a child, yet how often we offend them unknowingly. Who would deprive a child of his toys? Yet we subscribe to practices which take away his food. The curse of divorce, war, unemployment, low wage and human exploitation falls heavily upon children. They are the victims of injustice and maladjustment.

We think of infanticide, child marriage and the starvation of children in Asia and are reminded of the torture of children's bodies, minds and spirits in our own land.

I wish every one, especially all those who pray to a Heavenly Father, could know what is happening to underprivileged children right here in the United States. A letter recently received from Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York tells of heartbreaking conditions among children in the Southern mountains. He said: "I feel the situation keenly because I know that hunger, rags and cold breed crime even among children of God-fearing parents." From field reports of the Save the Children Fund we read: "Children in rags. They claim all they have is flour. Nothing to go with it." "Rows of tumbled down houses—you wonder how people can live in them, but they do. Countless numbers of ragged, barefoot children, fathers and mothers with tense, distressed faces." "To the question, 'Why are these children not in school?' the answer is, 'They have no shoes, clothes, or books.' The rags and patches rival the early days of Russia." These reports tell of mountain school teachers who like this one says, "I cannot eat my own lunch and look into the faces of these hungry children."

In the face of this crying need we allow food to be dumped and destroyed, meat, cotton and corn crops curtailed, hogs to be destroyed.

On my desk are pictures sent by the National Child Labor Committee of child laborers at their tasks—children at work in cotton mill, mine, sawmill, sweat shop. These children should be in school. Men stand idle while children work. Since the demise of the NRA, child labor is becoming more alive. (The Committee says: "In one Southern state, within three months after the codes were invalidated, there was a noticeable return of child laborers of 14 and 15 years of age to textile mills. . . despite the conscientious efforts by the State Labor Department to persuade employers to hire adults instead of children. This Committee, last summer, found children from 10 to 14 years old illegally employed in dilapidated silk mills in New Jersey. The tragedy is, that it is not just the return of a child here and there to the industry! They are returning in numbers in many places. In New York City 4,610 work permits were given to 14 and 15 year old children in September, October and November this year as compared with only 1,252 last year, almost four times as many.")

Realizing the injustice done children by child labor, some years ago Congress passed a law prohibiting child labor, but the Supreme Court of the United States declared the law invalid. An amendment to the constitution is now being ratified by the states, 24 thus far having voted favorably. But this has taken years. It will be two years more before the legislatures meet in all those states which thus far have not taken action. Meanwhile the children suffer.

We are shocked—and rightly so—when the child of a reknowned citizen is kidnapped and killed, but what do we do when thousands of children die annually of neglect and want—of preventable sickness and malnutrition?

The underprivileged child can be found not only in the mountains of the South, but within our own community. Sometimes the parents are to blame, sometimes other people, sometimes circumstances. But are the children ever to blame?

What can we do about it? I cannot give my answer today. Do you have answer?

Wetomachick CAMP FIRE GIRLS

The Wetomachick Camp Fire Girls held their first Council Fire at the home of Mary Jane Joseph on January 24. There were seventeen present.

After responding to the call of "Wohelo" the girls marched single file and formed a semicircle before the flaming fireplace. The girls gave the hand sign, repeated the Woodgatherer's Desire and then Carol Case lighted the light of "Work." Mary Jane Joseph the light of "Health" and Joyce Heath the light of "Love."

Each girl gave her Camp Fire name and explained why she chose it, and then the symbol of each girl was displayed. Mrs. Flory told of what Camp Fire had meant to one woman who wrote about it in the February Forum magazine. The girls sang "America the Beautiful" after which the Council Fire ended.

Mary Jane Joseph then served apples and the girls talked of beautiful things they had seen during the past week.

Betty Christanson is able to attend our meetings again. We are happy to have her.

We hope soon to learn the Camp Fire songs so we may sing them at our meetings.

Mrs. Flory closed our meeting till January 31, at her home. Reporter, Mildred Craft.

Can Now Be Purchased for $25 a Month with Usual Low Down-Payment

THIS $25-a-month time-payment plan enables you to buy a New Ford V-8 car through your Ford dealer on new low monthly terms.

After the usual low down-payment is made, $25 a month is all you have to pay for any type of new car, including insurance and financing.

Your cost for this extension of credit is only 1/2 of 1% a month on your original unpaid balance and insurance. This plan reduces financing charges for twelve months to 6%. For example, if you owe a balance of $400 for your car and insurance, you pay $24 for the year of credit; if the balance is $200 you pay $12. Your credit cost for one year is the original unpaid balance multiplied by 6%.

UCC plans provide you with insurance protection at regular conference rates. You have not only fire and theft insurance, but $50 deductible collision, and protection against other accidental physical damage to your car.

The Universal Credit Company has made these plans available through all Ford dealers in the United States.

Womans Club

The Woman's Club sponsored a lecture by Prof. W. D. Henderson of the University of Michigan Extension Bureau, Monday evening at Michelson Memorial church.

Prof. Henderson was introduced by Rev. Edgar Flory. His address on the "Power of Personality" was so intensely interesting that the audience were loath to hear the finish. This was Prof. Henderson's fifth appearance in Grayling and we hope not his last.

The Club wishes to thank everyone who assisted them in making the Queen's ball and banquet a success during the Winter Sports Carnival.

Boys Basketball Schedule

Basketball

The Frederic boys and girls teams added another victory to their credit last Tuesday, Jan. 21, when the girls defeated the St. Mary's girls from Gaylord, winning by a score of 10-9. The first team boys played the Alba boys and won by a score of 5-9. Both of these games were very exciting and close all the time but the Frederic teams were not out of the lead at any time. Alba did not bring a second team so the third game of the evening was played between the Frederic Independents and the Bon Ton Bakers of Traverse City. The locals were defeated by a score of 34 to 23.

Friday night, Jan. 24, Frederic high school teams went to Johannesburg. The first game of the evening was played by the Frederic girls and the Johannesburg girls. It was a very close and exciting game, Johannesburg finally emerging victorious by a score of 23-22. This was the first game the Frederic girls have lost this year so was rather hard to take. The boys reserve teams played next. It looked very bad for the Frederic boys as the half ended 10-0 in favor of Johannesburg. They made it very interesting in the last half however, but were unable to put it quite over and Johannesburg won by a score of 9-12. The last and most vital game of the evening was played by the first string boys of both schools. Frederic got off to a bad start in this game also, letting their opponents get four points in the first few minutes of play. They quickly rallied however and before the quarter ended were leading. They never lost that lead during the remainder of the game. The score at the end of the fourth period was Johannesburg 13, Frederic 23. The game was really more exciting than the score may indicate.

Mr. Lewis and Mr. Beach went to Vanderbilt last week Wednesday to attend a meeting of the "Northern Quint D League," bringing back the trophy which the five teams of the league are fighting for. At present there is a tie for first place between Alba and Frederic. Frederic has a little the edge as far as the remaining schedule is concerned as both of their remaining games are at home while those of Alba are away. Frederic plays Vanderbilt on the home floor Jan. 31. Come on Frederic! Let's get that trophy!

Frederic high school has won 8 games while losing only two, for a percentage of .800. In doing so they have scored a total of 192 points as compared to 122 by their opponents. Clair Melroy, guard, is leading in the individual scoring with a total of 64 points.

The Frederic School bus left for Grayling Sunday at about 11:00 o'clock. With it went many people who were curious to see the snow trains from Detroit arrive, and also to visit the winter carnival at the park. After an enjoyable day in spite of the cold, they arrived home hungry and tired.

Many were absent from school last week on account of the stormy weather. The bus was unable to travel its entire route as the plows had not been through to remove the snow.

We have started serving hot lunches to the out-of-town students, which seems to be very agreeable to all the students. Louise Vollmer is manager and Miss Brooks prepares the menu. The Home Economics girls do the preparing and serving under the supervision of Miss Brooks, the Home Ec. teacher. They also clear the table and clean the dishes, two different girls working each day.

The Home Economics girls are learning to cook from the ground up—mostly from the ground preparing vegetables, etc., afterwards washing the dishes, feeling very prim and neat in their aprons and headbands they made in sewing class.

The Public-Speaking class under the supervision of Mr. Beach will report news for the school, each member having his or her turn according to alphabetical order of names. No salary mentioned but a good mark expected. Miss Helma Corsaut is news reporter for next week.

The Shop class have finished their drawing projects and at the beginning of this week we started in at woodwork. We have a new student this semester in shop. Edna Small became discouraged at picking her finger in Home Ec. so she is going to try her luck at sawing.

We all extend our greatest sympathy and expert advice to Clair Melroy. "Gossip" is getting him down.

War With Spain Aided Hawaii

The United States' war with Spain in 1898 ended five years of procrastination in negotiations between the Republic of Hawaii and Washington. From Manila bay a telegram was flashed by Commodore George Dewey, "Send troops." The long journey of troops from San Francisco to the Philippine Islands commenced. A rest point en route was vital. The Hawaiian Islands' long standing request for entry into the nation was swiftly consummated by joint resolution of congress.

Resolution as offered by Supervisor Olsen.

Resolved: That the financial conditions of this County are rapidly reaching proportions that will ultimately require extensive consideration of the economic administration of the funds available to the County during each fiscal year and, in consideration that there is from time to time outstanding bills, accounts, and other evidences of debt,

Moved by Olsen, and supported by Dyer, that the above resolution be accepted and adopted.

ioners have submitted an estimate of costs of their department for the ensuing year, and that the amounts therein are in the opinion of this Board of adequate and sufficient amount to provide for the anticipated activity of that Board during 1936.

Therefore Be It Resolved: That said report be accepted, approved and adopted as presented and that the Board of County Road Commissioners be and are hereby authorized to proceed there-with accordingly.

Be it further Resolved: That this Board of Supervisors do now recommend that the road known as Lovens to Lewiston, being postal route No. 1 and Leona's school corner east to County line commonly referred to as the Kellogg road, on the present route thereof, be provided sufficient funds from their estimate for that purpose, such funds as will adequately provide for the completion of gravel surface or as far as funds will permit on the road or roads above described.

Further: That in the event Federal aided projects are entertained, we recommend that the Fish Hatchery bridge be included in such proposal.

Phone 39, the local E.R.A. office. It will be appreciated.

Emerson Brown, who has been employed at Saginaw for some time, came Sunday on the snow train and attended the winter sports carnival. His friends will be pleased to learn that he has been transferred to Port Huron and will act as manager of that branch of the Holland Furnace Co. This is a very fine promotion and Emerson is to be congratulated.

One of the most interesting meetings of the Kiwanis Club this season was that of last week Wednesday noon when Lieutenant Governor Gladwin Lewis of Traverse City was present and talked to the members. He offered many helpful suggestions for the good of the club. Yesterday the meeting was devoted to general discussion and resulted largely in Winter Park affairs. John Surday of Lovells was a guest at the luncheon.

MICHIGAN PUBLIC SERVICE CO.

in its second day. Each day has had a full program of outdoor exercising. I believe you are in good condition for the ordeal now ahead of you. In short, I know you can take it.

Before leaving my home and friends for this beautiful north country today there was much discussion with my wife over the preparations to be made. You would have thought that I was to embark on another Byrd expedition to the South Pole by the suggestions offered me on how to keep warm. At last we compromised on a long-discarded pair of heavy, two pairs of socks, and a long muffler. As an extra precaution and as entirely an original idea of my own making, I took the trouble to bring along a dash of nature's purest fermentation just for emergencies.

So, I assure you I have been prepared for the worst. Instead I find that I have the happy privilege of officiating at a coronation, the coronation of a winter beauty queen. That isn't my idea of hard work. I agree with the noted poet that "A Thing of Beauty is a Joy Forever."

Michigan is known far and wide as a state of beauty and particularly does this apply to this section of Michigan. And by beauty, I do not limit the compliment to the scenery about us. Michigan is winning its share of national attention through the beauty of its beauty queens.

And so it is a genuine pleasure for me to return to Grayling to participate in these ceremonies. I want to congratulate the Grayling Winter Sports Association and the citizens of this section of the state for creating so worthy an institution as the winter sports carnival. This carnival is now in its eleventh year which is tribute enough to its success. I pledge you my support as state highway commissioner in perpetuating this institution and doing what I can to make it a continued success.

In coming from the capital city of politics and politicians to the capital city of winter sports I was particularly interested in your slogan for Grayling in winter time. You have characterized this community as the place "Where Everyone Plays and Stays Young." If you can't pack 'em in with a promise like that then something is wrong with human nature in Michigan.

My visits to Grayling have always been pleasant so that your secretary, Mr. Moore, had no particular difficulty in having me attend your carnival. All he had to do was to dangle the invitation in front of me.

I have seen your community at the height of the busy summer season. Tourists and resort residents were here from all parts of the country enjoying your delightful climate. You have been successful in making this part of Michigan "The summer playground of the nation." And now at this season of the year with commendable enterprise and foresight you are rapidly achieving your goal of making Grayling "Michigan's winter sports capital."

The popularity of these carnivals is readily understandable to me. You have made all provisions for a person to come here and have a good time. You have complete facilities for enjoying skiing, ice skating, tobogganing and all the other winter sports. And I find that your official program is packed full with entertainment on each of the three days of the carnival. Your association is deserving of high praise in arranging such an attractive carnival.

And now, I think I had better go ahead with the business and pleasure of crowning the charming Miss Virginia Skingley as the queen of your winter sports carnival.

I am informed that Miss Skingley is only 18 year old. I'm not afraid to mention the years because she's right at the age that most women would like to be.

The people of this community, Miss Skingley, have honored themselves in selecting you as their winter queen. At the same time we cannot overlook the great honor that has fallen to you even though it may be so richly deserved.

We hear more about our bathing queens than our snow queens. Perhaps that is due to the movies and to the Sunday newspapers which can show more of our summer queens than our winter queens. But I have been thinking that our winter queens are the more beautiful. Your beauty comes not so much from all the little tints and polishes in the lady's vanity case as from the healthful air, the biting winds, and all the elements of Old Mother Nature here in northern Michigan.

It's more than a pleasure, Miss Skingley, for me to place this crown upon your head symbolic of your reign over this fine winter carnival. May you rule with all the beauty, poise, and dignity, that has brought you this high honor. Thank you.

IMPORTANCE OF GOOD HIGHWAYS

Murray D. VanWagoner, State Highway Commissioner, while in Grayling attending the winter carnival said:

"As I drove to your carnival today, I thought again, as I always do in returning to northern Michigan, of the vital importance of good highways in the development of this entire area. The value of your state highway department's snow-removal program to northern Michigan was once again impressed upon my mind. Not so many years ago it would have been beyond the realm of possibility for visitors to drive any considerable distance in Michigan at this season of the year. Now, however, we have 5,807 miles of highways in the state on our snow-removal program. These roads are kept open for automobile and truck traffic throughout the winter season.

"I would be guilty of avoiding a very serious issue with you people up here if I made no mention of the recent effort of 49 counties of northern Michigan to obtain snow-removal funds for your local roads. Your state highway department went as far as it could in your behalf by advancing more than $2,000,000 on your April highway revenue funds to assist you in taking care of this burden. We also closed the books on 1935 revenues and turned over $1,600,000 to the counties. This policy by your state highway department in meeting our obligations to the counties when they are due has added you materially in meeting your road burdens.

"I know your problem is serious and am fully in sympathy with your request. I also know that you want something more than sympathy. Your state highway department is now engaged in a comprehensive highway planning survey of Michigan. One of the phases of this survey is a fiscal study. We expect this study to yield some very definite information on your problem and that the department will have a legislative snow-removal program. There is no reason for instance that I can see why a portion of the sales tax levied on gasoline could not be used to help you plow your roads. Taxes levied against motorists should be used for highway purposes and highway purposes only.

"I know of no place in this section of the country where there are so many attractions to draw summer visitors as in this area. Your summer climate is perfect and there are all of the other natural resources which enable persons to enjoy a vacation. I am fully convinced that the tourist and resort industry has played a major part in Michigan's leadership in economic security and business recovery.

"The best criterion of Michigan's tourist trade is the volume of traffic crossing the Straits of Mackinac. It is also a good criterion of your tourist business here at Grayling. More than 143,000 passengers automobiles were carried across the Straits in 1935, the greatest traffic on record between Michigan's two peninsulas.

"It is no secret that the highway system of Michigan is not yet a balanced system. Roads in some sections have been neglected. The northern part of the lower peninsula and a great deal of the Upper Peninsula have been in need of improved surfacing on many trunks.

"One of the purposes of my administration has been a well-balanced state highway system. Michigan is a leading industrial state, the greatest automobile state in the Union. Our industrial roads cannot be neglected and must be improved. No one denies that fact. Michigan is also a leading agricultural state and important to the state and the state highway commissioner who would neglect the highways to our resort areas is not worthy of your confidence.

"There has been no necessity for anyone to try to sell your present state highway administration on the value of Michigan's tourist business and the need for tourist highway development. The construction of new routes, the improvement of our existing roads, the building of new roads to our inland resort spots, and adequate maintenance on existing trunklines to all our resort centers have been major objectives of your present state highway administration.

"You of Grayling have had visible evidence of this policy. You have seen a continuous development program on US-27, Michigan's great north and south tourist highway. Part of this improvement has been in this community. We have also improved other highways here and have expended nearly $85,000 on new construction in this vicinity.

"We have just revealed the details of our next Federal Aid construction program beginning July 1. One of the major highlights of this program are two projects which will complete the hard-surfacing of US-27 from the state line on the south to the Straits of Mackinac on the north. I don't think there is a single action your state highway department could take which would be of so much importance to you of this vicinity as this move.

"Mention should also be made of our plans to pave M-66 on the next program. This is of interest to you because it will provide a connecting link between US-31 on the west at Alanson and US-27 on the east.

"Michigan is now in an enviable position with respect to the progress it has made on its highway relief program made possible by President Roosevelt's broad public works program. The President approved our $20,000,000 program first at a time when most states had not even started work on their plans. This program was launched last August and at the close of November, the latest date on which a comparative analysis was available, we were far ahead of any other state in the Union in getting our projects under way.

"This position was attained not through any accident. Most of you know that for the last 2 1/2 years your state highway department has had virtually no funds for a purely state construction program. Three-fifths of our revenues are returned directly to the counties under existing laws. I shouldn't complain too much about this factor, however, as I share the responsibility for a portion of the funds turned back to the counties. Two years ago I recommended a 36 per cent reduction in the automobile weight tax and the legislature concurred. The legislature, however, directed that half of the commuted loss in revenues be taken out of highway revenues.

"In addition to the returns to the counties there are other statutory, contractual, and maintenance obligations that have reduced our balance for construction, right-of-way, betterments, overhead, and so forth to less than $3,000,000 a year. Faced with this situation, it became necessary for your state highway commissioner to knock continuously upon Washington's door for construction money for Michigan.

"While we have demanded at Washington that Michigan receive its share of road construction funds, we have been very zealous in protecting state money. There has been a lot of talk about balancing budgets and changing red figures to black ones. Well, let me tell you today the cash position of your state highway department is more than a million dollars in excess of that bequeathed to my administration. At the same time our accounts payable have been reduced from more than ten million dollars to less than $150,000. If some of our public officials can boast of black figures I guess the state highway department can claim it is writing its fiscal picture in India ink.

"No reference to our highway tourist program is complete without the mention of our efforts to effect a long-term solution of the dust problem. Nothing is more apt to dampen a tourist's enthusiasm than a dusty gravel road. Of course we apply calcium chloride and other palliatives to keep the dust down but this is a process that must be repeated. In view of the absence of sufficient funds to surface all our gravel roads, this procedure, though temporary, has been our best expedient.

"Through the cooperation of the works progress administration, however, we have been able to launch a program of gravel trunklines with an oil aggregate surface. This type of road can be built at a much lower cost than concrete and the cost of maintenance is $400 to $500 cheaper than gravel. More than 200 miles of gravel trunklines are on our program to be surfaced with this dust proof, oil aggregate surface.

"I have made some mention of our highway planning survey now in progress. I have also noted that too often our highways have not been constructed under a definite improvement plan. This has resulted in serious inequalities and a failure to meet traffic needs throughout the state.

"This survey, long overdue for the benefits that it will yield in drafting a long-term highway improvement program, is divided into three phases. I have previously mentioned the fiscal study. The other two phases are the physical inventory of the 85,000 miles of Federal, state, county, and township roads in the state; and a traffic count study at approximately 4,000 contemplated stations throughout Michigan.

"We believe this entire study will yield information that will serve as a guide to local and state highway policies for the next fifteen or twenty years. But the survey is also important at this time when the entire nation is aroused over the tragedy of death upon our public highways.

Alpena Carnival
